About Correspondences

W hen creating rituals every little thing you choose is part of your magic. They become physical representations of the intentions you are manifesting. The magic starts with you. The items are an extension of you in collaboration with the Universe. This is one way to turn dreams into physical reality.

Throughout history many different cultures use different items to symbolize different meanings in their ceremonies and rituals. This booklet provides an extensive list but it certainly isn't an exhaustive one. You should follow your curiosity to explore and do your own research to find the correspondences that make the most sense for you. It's also a wonderful way to learn about different cultures and traditions. And as always, be led by your own intuition. If this booklet says a correspondence means a specific thing but it means something else to you, follow your own meaning. Whether you're creating your altar or spell jar, it's your personalized intention that means everything.

Let yourself experiment, have fun, and create!

MAGIC WATER

MOON WATER

Leave a glass of water outside overnight. You can use any moon you like but I would avoid doing this during an eclipse. You can cover your glass with something clear so no extra things get in. You can also use a strainer to get any residue out. Moon energy is feminine, intuitive, cleansing.

SUN WATER

Leave a glass of water outside for an hour or more. You can cover your glass with something clear so no extra things get in. You can also use a strainer to get any residue out. Sun energy is energizing, action-oriented, charging, masculine.

CRYSTAL WATER

Put water-safe crystals (check online) in a glass container. Add spring water and leave it out in the moonlight/sunlight for at least 24 hours. The water will absorb the energy of the crystals plus the sun/moon energy.

OTHER POSSIBILITIES

The possibilities are endless. You can use specific items or specific timings.

THOUGHTS

SHARE YOUR THOUGHTS ON WHAT RESONATED FOR YOU. WHAT WORKED OR DIDN'T WORK FROM YOUR PROCESS? WHAT MIGHT YOU DO DIFFERENTLY NEXT TIME?

Thank you

I'm so grateful you're following your curiosity and intuition.

I hope this workbook helped you create something special and magical.

There is so much magic to explore. The collective consciousness adds power to each correspondence. But know that YOU are the magic and each thing on its own doesn't create magic without you.

Thank you for shining your light into the world. We need you.

*With love, magic & infinite possibilities,
Carmen xo*
